

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

With less than seven months to go before the August primary brings its inevitable show-down, the lesser lights along The Great White Way of politics are rapidly blinking out—and the men whose names are destined to twinkle in Neon, during California's quadrennial battle for Governor, are generally starting to emerge!

At this writing, there are six "big names" in the gubernatorial line-up; three in each of the major parties.

Rivals for top billing on the Democratic side of the street are Governor Culbert L. Olson, Speaker of the Assembly Gordon Garland, and Senator Robert W. ("Bob") Kenny of Los Angeles.

Brightest prospects along the Republican side of the Rialto are Attorney General Earl Warren, Publisher-Railroad Commissioner Justus Craemer, and Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles.

Mr. Olson is an almost certain candidate to succeed himself. His political mentors, while admitting that he has fumbled the ball badly on occasions, insist that he is almost "unbeatable" now, due to the fact that the nation is at war. Assembly Speaker Garland, Mr. Olson's implacable foe, and Senator Kenny, until recently an Olson supporter, have been holding conversations—and one or the other may finally pull out of the governorship race and announce himself for Lieutenant Governor.

Attorney General Warren is admitted by all and sundry to be the GOP's man in shining armor; both Craemer and Bowron would undoubtedly withdraw in his favor if Mr. Warren should announce himself, but no such announcement has been forthcoming. Most sensational development in the Republican campaign is the rapidity with which Mr. Craemer's candidacy has soared to prominence. More newspapers have endorsed Mr. Craemer's possible candidacy (he has not yet announced himself) than that of any other aspirant.

For Lieutenant Governor, there are five major prospects attracting attention—the incumbent Ellis E. Patterson; James Rolph III, son of the late Governor Rolph; Secretary of State Paul Peek, Senator J. C. Garrison of Modesto and Assemblyman Lee Baskore of Glendora. Among the politically-wise, Patterson is considered almost certain to go down to defeat, due to his left-wing affiliations and the disposition of the people to vote conservatively during a period of national emergency. He has been more or less openly deserted by the Olson administration. His most likely successor, judged by present trends, is young Jim Rolph, who has a strong following in both parties and who nearly won the office in 1938.

The big show is in full dress rehearsal; names are going up in lights—and soon the political Great White Way will blaze with its 1942 billings. Which shows give promise of a four-year run, and which will fold soon after the

Sudden Death of A. B. Gilson Shock To Community

News of the death of Algernon B. Gilson, which occurred early Saturday morning at O'Connor sanitarium, came as a shock to most of his friends and acquaintances, who, although aware of his illness had not known the condition was imminently critical.

Mr. Gilson had been away from his place of business for a few weeks suffering from a heart condition, but had been in the hospital for only a day.

Deceased was born in Atkinson, Ill., on Feb. 28, 1885, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Gilson.

When 21 years of age he was married to Elizabeth Hartman, on Sept. 15, 1906 at Rock Island, Ill. They remained in the central states until 1919 when they moved to Campbell.

A. S. Gilson, assisted by his son, opened a meat market, which two years later the latter took over, and has continued to operate, for the past few years with the assistance of his son Berkeley Gilson.

Deceased was a very home loving man, where he spent much of his comparatively limited leisure in the cultivation of a successful flower garden, the products of which often decorated his market.

Members of the family surviving are his widow Elizabeth Gilson, and the children, Mrs. Ella Breeding of Saratoga, Sister Mary Irene of Notre Dame de Namur of Salinas, Mrs. Dorothy Schnerr of Stockton, Mrs. Fred Toth of Compton, Mrs. Lucille Cirone of Sunnyvale, Miss Dolores and Miss Jean Gilson, and the only son, Berkeley J. of Campbell.

Final funeral rites were held Monday morning from the John P. Higgins funeral home and a requiem mass was celebrated at St. Martin's church in Burbank, with interment in Santa Clara Catholic cemetery.

Serving as pall bearers were Ted Harper, Carl Field, Sam Piazza, Joseph Bianco, Dominic Cirone and John Breeding.

Mr. Gilson's long familiar presence will be missed from his accustomed place but patrons will be pleased that the business is to be continued by the family.

Local Civic Group Will Hold Special Meeting Monday

A general meeting has been called by the chamber of commerce for Monday, Feb. 9 at 7:30 p. m. in the Campbell Water company office to consider the problem of night police service.

For the past several years the night watchman has been paid by a small group of business men, and his liability in-

OUR RISING SUN

New First Aid Classes Started Tuesday Evening

Additional Red Cross first aid classes for beginners are being established at Campbell Union High school.

The first new class started Tuesday evening, Feb. 3, under the instruction of Harold Drummond of the high school faculty. This class will meet twice a week on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7:00 p. m. There is room for a few more students in the class and students may enroll Thursday night, even though they missed the first session.

A second beginners class starts on Feb. 11 at 7 p. m. and will meet twice a week on Mondays and Wednesdays. T. E. Blesh will be the instructor.

The beginning courses that started some time ago, will be completed this week. They will be followed by advance courses. Three instructors have been secured to teach these advanced classes.

A class under the direction of Dr. F. R. Anderson will start on Tuesday, Feb. 17. Another class with Mrs. Harold Drummond as instructor, will start on the 17th, but thereafter will meet on Monday nights. A third class instructed by Mr. Blesh will begin on Feb. 10.

A Red Cross course in Home Nursing and Hygiene under the leadership of Mrs. Alfreda Runge, will start on Feb. 17 at 7:00 p. m. and will meet each Tuesday and Wednesday night for six weeks.

More than 240 residents of Campbell are receiving training in first aid at the present. It is anticipated that many more will take advantage of the opportunity of receiving this valuable training.

Insurance by the chamber of commerce.

The situation now has developed that some other system of financing must be arranged or the service abandoned. The chamber wants to find out what you wish to do about it.

Local Kiwanians Hold Meeting With Gilroy Club Here

A joint meeting of the Campbell and Gilroy Kiwanis clubs Tuesday evening brought 18 members of the latter club to have dinner here.

W. R. Morgan presided and the usual program of community singing and repartee was enjoyed, followed by a presentation of a one act farce "The Dime Lunch" by a group of The Footlighters which was the main entertainment.

Next week Ira Abbott will present the speaker, Walter L. Bachrodt, superintendent of San Jose City schools, whose subject will be "Schools In Defense."

Dean Chamberlin Given Surprise Farewell Party

Twenty-five members of The Footlighters interrupted a rehearsal of the current play Friday evening in the hall, to honor Dean Chamberlin, director, with a surprise farewell party.

Florence Smith supervised a series of hilarious games in which everyone joined. Following these LBen Howard, president, spoke of the valuable services rendered by Chamberlin from the start of the group and presented him with a beautiful engraved wallet from the group. Dean replied in an appropriate speech and thanked his fellow members. Community singing was enjoyed with Miss Veva Nicholls at the piano.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Vivian Becker after which more games were played.

Dean, English, dramatic and journalism instructor at Campbell Union High school, has been a director and one of the prime movers of The Footlighters since its organization in 1939. He is planning to enlist and will leave soon but as yet does not know where he will be stationed.

P.-T. A. Units Meet to Honor "Founders' Day"

The Campbell Union Grammar school P.-T. A. met Tuesday, Feb. 3 for a short business meeting in the kindergarten room before joining the members of the high P.-T. A. for a program in honor of the founders of the organization. The chairmen were Mrs. Ira Grim of the grammar school unit and Mrs. Ray Wood of the high school unit.

Mrs. W. F. Grattan, president of the grammar unit announced that the grammar school will have another paper drive as soon as the weather clears up, next week if possible. She also gave a very interesting report on the sixth district meeting she attended last week.

Plans were made for having a member of the P.-T. A. at the school for one half hour one day a week with defense stamps to be sold to the school children. The P.-T. A., of course, will derive no profit from this, but will be of service in helping the children save their money and by getting them to put all they can into defense stamps.

Mrs. Esther Short, school nurse, gave a report on the number of cases of contagious diseases. She also asked that parents please do not keep their children home from school unless it is absolutely necessary. If the number of absentees continue there may be a loss of two teachers, as the school loses 60 cents for every day any child is absent and that, of course, must be made up some way or the

Richard Todd Will Broadcast on F. F. A. Program

Richard Todd, one of the progressive Future Farmers of Campbell High school, will appear on the Future Farmers of America broadcast Saturday evening. The program will be presented over station KPO or KGO from 7 to 7:15.

Todd will tell of his own projects in swine and poultry and his additional program in "food for defense," both in animal and plant husbandry. He also manages the family's fruit orchards, owing to illness of his father.

The broadcast this week is centered about Future Farmer chapters in Santa Clara county, with Ralph Fitzsimmons, vocational agriculture teacher at Morgan Hill participating. He is called a county "key teacher" which means that he is spokesman for vocational agriculture in the four high schools in the county which give training in this subject.

This program should be of special interest to residents of these districts.

Ada Rebekah lodge will hold a cake sale Saturday, Feb. 7 at Field's store. Thelma Whitmore is in charge of arrangements.

Country Woman's Club Hears Fine Talk on Flowers

Mrs. Thomas Nash of San Jose spoke at the Monday meeting of the Country Woman's club. Mrs. Nash is a member of the San Jose Art league and the San Francisco Women's Art club.

In her talk Mrs. Nash traced the development of flowers used decoratively in art from the lotus of the early Egyptians to the modern decorative floral panels. She showed many pictures of the masters of the various art periods to illustrate her points and stated that "Color is a song. We need not express our decorative floral ideas in paint alone, but there is a great field for color and decoration in our gardens, needle work and decoration of our homes." As she concluded her talk, Mrs. Nash showed several of her own lovely paintings of flowers.

Also on the program were songs by Rev. Donald Baldwin. In keeping with the theme of the day he sang "Old Fashioned Garden" and "In A Little Old Garden." Virginia Rutherford accompanied him at the piano.

The club room was colorfully and tastefully decorated with massive arrangements of yellow acacia and tritonia. The speaker's table held a lovely bowl of camellias attractively arranged about a dancing figurine.

Mrs. Ralph Hyde as program chairman of the day, introduced Mrs. Nash and Rev. Baldwin. Others on the committee were Mrs. C. B. Field, Mrs. Claude Block, Miss Jessie Lewis, Mrs. B. T. Morgan, Mrs. Anthony Jurras, Mrs. Hubert Wagner, Mrs. F. R. Anderson, Mrs. Ray Wood.

The next meeting of the club will be on Feb. 16. The topic will be "Hawaii." Mrs. Raymond Bishop will show objects of interest and Mrs. Charles Simonds will speak.

That Fighting Man, MacArthur

He's of the breed of John Paul Jones and Davy Crockett and Alvin York, that man MacArthur.

So was his old man before him: Arthur MacArthur, who at 20 was getting cited for "gallant and meritorious service" in Civil War battles, and who as a general helped take from the Spanish the territory his son has been defending against the Japs.

The tremendous odds may have told against Douglas MacArthur's slim resources by the time this sees print, but up to this moment the American gamester and his handful of Americans and Filipinos have chewed up everything the Japs have thrown at them. The only thing Japan's prize field marshals have gained from MacArthur is a lesson in the art of war.

Yet great as his military services have been across the far Pacific, greater yet has been MacArthur's service in magnificent stimulus to the morale of every American man and woman. The sad story of Pearl Harbor, where the very leaders chosen for Army and Navy posts of weightiest responsibility failed to take adequate precautions against treachery and surprise, might have shaken the faith of millions in the ranks of our fighting forces—had not the inspiring story of that dauntless, brilliant, fighting American, MacArthur, been unfolding all the while. The wildest brains in treacherous Japan couldn't surprise Douglas MacArthur. Their shrewdest strategists couldn't outwit him. Their picked shock troops, at odds of 21 to 1, were hurled back when they faced him. He has given his countrymen the lift they need.

And he's America's number one hero of this war—America's fighting man, MacArthur.

Got A Good Book?

Do you have any mystery thrillers in your home library, or tales of adventure and travel, once read and enjoyed, and now just idly gathering dust, a source of entertainment to no one?

If so, you can put them to good use in a market where there's a hungry demand for reading on the lighter side, and that's among the members of Uncle Sam's growing army, navy and merchant marine.

So important do officials regard book reading as a means of maintaining morale and providing valuable recreation, that libraries have already been established at most of the camps. A nationwide campaign has set 10 million books as its goal. Collection depots have been set up in public libraries and public buildings and other centers throughout the nation.

Naturally, an indiscriminate housecleaning of your shelves isn't what's wanted. Reading surveys make clear that men in our armed forces have little interest in heavy, scholastic works. They seek the good, lively entertainment from their reading that books of travel and adventure provide.

Let's have a look at our bookshelves and put some of their books to work in a worthy cause!

TILL THE BATTLE ENDS

The United States must fight in two oceans, and in whatever country or continent the enemy can be reached. Till the battle ends, campaigns on the home front must not slacken. There's no better time than today for buying defense stamps and bonds for your own security and your country's victory!

INCOME TAX INFORMATION

Many farmers will be liable for filing income tax returns and payment of tax for the first time this year. The term "farmers" includes livestock raisers, fruit and truck growers, and operators of plantations and ranches.

Farmers may maintain their records and file their returns of income on either the cash receipts and disbursements basis or on the accrual basis of accounting. A consistent method must, however, be employed. If a cash basis is used, Form 1040F, "Schedule of Farm Income and Expenses," is required to be filled out and filed in conjunction with Form 1040.

Deductions from gross income may be made by farmers as necessary expenses, all amounts expended (other than those constituting capital expenditures) in carrying on the business of farming. Deductions for expenses include such items as cost of feeding and raising livestock (except the value of farm produce grown upon the farm and the labor of the taxpayer); cost of seed, minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling of the farmer); small tools used up in the course of a year or two; fuel and oil used for farm work; repairs and maintenance of farm machinery; hired laborers and hired machines, and cost of commercial fertilizers the benefit of which is of short duration.

The cost of farm machinery and equipment and farm buildings; amounts expended in the development of farms, orchards and ranches, as well as the amounts expended in the restoration of soil fertility preparatory to actual production of crops and the cost of liming soil to increase productiveness over a period of years, are capital expenditures.

Losses incurred in the operation of farms as business enterprises are deductible from gross income. If livestock has been purchased for any purpose, and afterwards dies from disease, exposure

Ernest Lloyd Rites to Be Held Friday

Ernest F. Lloyd passed away at O'Connor sanitarium yesterday, a short time after he was rushed there by ambulance following a fall from a balcony at the home of his father, Rev. W. H. Lloyd on Winchester road.

Lloyd, who was convalescing from a protracted illness, had stepped out on the balcony to speak to two men who had come to do some work, and as announced by the coroner's office he apparently fell as the result of a dizzy spell.

He was a comparatively young man, only 40, born at Northville, Michigan. Part of his boyhood years were spent in Campbell when his father was pastor of the Methodist church here.

He is survived by his wife, Therese Lloyd, son and daughter, Richard and Roxana Lloyd, his parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Lloyd, brothers, Charles H. of Palo Alto; William N. of Campbell; Walter M. of Fresno; and two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Harrington of Orinda, Calif., and Mrs. Helen Hoeft of Mountain View.

Private funeral services will be held tomorrow (Friday) at 2 p. m. from the Amos O. Williams parlors.

Harry Silver, district deputy Grand Patriarch of the I. O. O. F., will install San Jose and Santa Clara encampment Monday evening, Feb. 9, at Santa Clara. It will be an open installation, followed by entertainment and dancing.

or injury, or is killed by order of the authorities of a state or the United States, the actual purchase price of such livestock, less any depreciation allowable as a deduction in respect of such perished livestock, may be deducted as a loss if the loss is not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

If gross income is ascertained by the use of inventories, no deduction can be taken separately for livestock or products lost during the year.

Time to Save Time

Before turning out the lights on retiring next Sunday night, Americans will salute the determination of their country to let nothing stand in the way of fashioning the sinews of war with all possible speed. In each of the country's time zones, they will turn the family clocks ahead one full hour. One additional hour of daylight working time daily will save more than 700 million kilowatt hours of electricity yearly for war industries' use.

Officially, daylight saving takes effect at 2 a. m., February 9.

Be sure your alarm clock is in time with DST before turning in next Sunday. There'll be no fun, come Monday morning, in finding yourself an hour behind the rest of the nation.

MYSTERY WEEK

"The Widening Stain" by W. Bolingbroke Johnson.

Yes, I found out who the guilty one was, but not until the tenth page from the end of the book. Sure, "The Widening Stain" is a mystery. Wouldn't you guess it from the title? Well, not readily, I'll admit. Neither would you guess it from the author's name.

This mystery is centered around a university library. The characters are the professors and librarians of this university. No, it's not high-brow. There are a few scattered limericks worth mentioning in a review. Are there any murders, did I hear you ask? Yes, there is more than one murder, which makes the book bloody enough for any gruesome-loving mystery fan.

There is also a love interest to make it soft in spots, but not too soft to detract from its first mission — mystery thriller!

In reviewing a mystery book, it's difficult to know when to stop telling about the story. The reviewer doesn't wish to reveal any of the clues but he does want to convince you that it is full of thrills, suspense and murders. "The Widening Stain" stands the acid test for thrillers!

"Epitaph For Lydia" by Virginia Rath, is another very new thriller just introduced to the Book Mark. Just saw enough of it to know that it's setting is San Francisco. That is just enough of it to make me want to know more about the book. Michael Dundas, the amateur detective is also, of all things, a dress designer. Mrs. Dundas pops in and out of the story just enough to remind you a little of "The Thin Man" stories. It's fast moving enough to make one stick with the book right through to the end. Fun!

Just caught a glimpse of another new one. "They Tell No Tales" by Manning Coles, author of "Drink to Yesterday" and "A Toast to Tomorrow." There seems to be lots of reading for the "chiller" fans.

Don't forget, the boys in the camps still need your books. Bring them along and deposit in the box waiting at THE WHAT NOT.

F. F. A. Boys Buy Hogs

Campbell Future Farmer boys traveled to California Polytechnic school Friday to purchase pure bred Duroc Jersey hogs for breeding stock. The boys were accompanied by instructor Kenneth Dwelley who showed them around the school campus.

The following boys purchased hogs: Jack Farnham, Charles De Rose, Nick Rajkovich and the Campbell F. F. A. chapter also purchased one. These gilts along with many other hogs, dairy cows, veal calves, chickens, rabbits, and farm mechanics jobs will be on exhibit at the F. F. A. A Hint to the Wise Is Ample

By IRVIN S. COBB

HERE of late as all readers of the daily press know, the Ku Klux Klan has been rather active in parts of the state of Arkansas. In a small town north of Little Rock, the colored population has been much exercised over the midnight marches and the occasional visitations of the masked brotherhood. Certain offenders against the Klan's code of morals, having first been warned to depart or to mend their ways and having failed to do either, found themselves booked for whippings or for coats of tar feathers.

In this town, a few weeks ago, two negroes met. One of them said: "Look yere, Henery, whut you do ef you wuz to git a notice from them ole Ku Kluxes?" "Me?" said Henry. "I'd finish readin' it on de train!"

Motorists Asked To Keek Serial Numbers of Tires

Vehicle owners of California are warned by the Department of Motor Vehicles to keep a record of the serial numbers of their tires as well as the name of the manufacturer and other identifying data.

Since the sale of new tires was prohibited, it was stated, the theft of tires from parked automobiles has skyrocketed. The increase in thefts in some counties has been as high as 50 per cent over last year. A record of serial numbers or other identifying marks will facilitate quick recovery.

When a tire is retreaded, owners should see that the serial number is restored.

Traffic Patrol Aids In Defense

Campbell High school's traffic patrol boys have been assigned emergency fire posts by the various sergeants in charge of civilian defense on the high school campus.

Fire stations will be taken up as assigned during any fire alarm, real or unreal, if it occurs during school hours.

Those assigned to these duties are scheduled to receive fire fighting instructions from the chief of the Campbell Volunteer Fire department, Jack Scott.

"Music" Is Topic Of Club Meeting

The program chairman, Mrs. Robison gave the first talk on the subject of the day, "Music," taking first the music of the early Pilgrims of New England, then adding the Scotch, Irish, French and coming on down to the present time. Mrs. York gave short biographies of several Spanish composers.

Miss Betty York played "Deep Purple" by Peter De Rose, and "Espana" by Emil Wolstenfel.

Clare Booker played "Tango" as a violin solo accompanied by her mother followed by the loved "Estrelita."

Refreshments and a social hour followed the program.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

It has often been said that politics make strange bedfellows—and California, at the moment, has new and disturbing evidence that the old adage still applies, despite the national emergency.

Even in face of the fact that America is engaged in a fierce fight for survival against treacherous and powerful enemies, with most of the American people willing to make every possible sacrifice in defense of their country, political deals are still being hatched and entered into by minority groups seeking to gain a selfish advantage at the expense of the majority.

California farmers, many of whom have suffered severely from the vicious and un-American secondary boycott, need to take particular note of a recently revealed deal involving labor leaders and heads of the Ham and Eggs pension movement, whereby the two groups plan to combine forces against the public at large at the forthcoming General Election.

The bill enacted by the Legislature banning the "hot cargo" practice and the use of "secondary boycotts" will appear on the referendum ballot at the November election—and labor leadership in California is apparently determined to defeat it at all costs despite the destructive effect of strikes and labor tieups on the national defense program.

A new Ham and Eggs pension act is also scheduled to appear on the November ballot if sufficient initiative petition signatures are secured, despite the smashing defeat administered to the printing-press money scheme in 1939, and its previous defeat in 1938.

Seeking to engineer a vote swap between the two groups, Secretary Vandeleur of the State Federation of Labor has addressed letters to AFL unions in California, and to the editors of labor newspapers affiliated with the AFL, openly outlining plans for a common front during the campaign.

Mr. Vandeleur's revealing letter to labor newspapers follows:

"Greetings:

"In view of the resolution unanimously adopted at our Forty-Second Annual Convention endorsing the proposed Payroll Guarantee Amendment (Ham and Eggs); and in order to defeat the Hot Cargo Bill and to adopt the Payroll Guarantee Amendment, may I now express to you the thanks of the California State Federation of Labor for any and all cooperation that must exist between organized labor and pensions in view of the close cooperation which your official publications may render by publishing news releases or other articles furnished to you each week by the Payroll Guarantee Association of 1731 North Highland Avenue, Hollywood, California.

"Anything you can do to help us show a million Ham and Eggs our appreciation of their officially promised support to defeat the Hot Cargo Slave Bill will be sincerely appreciated.

staff has to be cut. With the school rooms crowded now, this should not be made possible.

After both groups had met in the auditorium and sung the national anthem and pledged allegiance to the flag everyone enjoyed selections by the grammar school orchestra. Sonny Smeed played two very fine selections on the trumpet, accompanied by Lorraine Wood at the piano. Teresa Conetto honored the group with two beautiful vocal selections, accompanied by Lois Frisch at the piano.

The interesting program was a review of the accomplishments of P.-T. A. since first founded in 1897. As the story progressed members of the different units appeared in dresses worn at that particular time. It was an interesting story and an amusing sight as the review was brought step by step up to date.

Mrs. Anthony Jurras, high school P.-T. A. president, introduced Mrs. Carl B. Field, who presented a Life Membership award to Mrs. Ray Wood. Then Mrs. S. N. Hedegard, first to receive a life membership award from the grammar school unit, and Mrs. J. B. Collins, Mr. I. R. Abbott and Mrs. Anthony Jurras were all awarded with flowers, as were Mrs. W. H. Van Dyke and Mrs. Wood of the high school. Mrs. Floyd Bohnett, not present, was honored as the first to receive the award from the high school.

The meeting was adjourned to the cafeteria the past

"With best wishes, I am
Fraternally,
Edward D. Vandeleur
Secretary, Calif. State
Federation of Labor"

Even more to the point was the labor secretary's letter to the AFL unions.

He wrote to the unions, in part:

"In conformity with the resolution adopted at our Convention, you are hereby respectfully requested to secure the signatures of all registered voters who are members of your union, on the Payroll Guarantee (Ham and Eggs) initiative petition inclosed herewith.

"Please attend to this important matter with all possible speed. I suggest that you read the resolution at your meetings during this drive for signatures; that you give these petitions your personal attention to see that your members sign

"Let us show a million Ham and Eggs our appreciation of their officially promised support to defeat the Hot Cargo Bill."

There can be no doubt that a deal to trade votes—a questionable practice at any time—has been entered into and that plans are going forward to put it into operation, but in this writer's opinion both Mr. Vandeleur and the Ham and Eggs are due for a rude awakening on election day.

With American boys losing their lives in battle for lack of supplies and equipment, labor boycotts, either primary or secondary, will find few supporters at the polls. And the Ham and Eggs pension movement, instead of gaining by the deal, is likely to find it a costly liability. It is good that the deal has been revealed; it will go far toward killing both proposals.
